

TWO SOUGHT IN SLAYING OF N. Y. COP SURRENDER

Each Declares He Is Innocent of Killing Joseph A.
Reuschele.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—Two of five men sought by the police as having possible knowledge of the murder of Patrolman Joseph A. Reuschele, shot through the heart in Riverside Drive while on post, surrendered to the district attorney last night. Each declared he knew nothing about the crime.

The two men, Abram Meckler, a laundryman, and Edward Lewis, a driver, with three others, were arrested by the policeman on September 3 near the spot where he was killed. They were out on bail charged with carrying revolvers without a permit and were to have been brought to trial October 7. The district attorney said he would have them detained as material witnesses.

Inspector Coughlin, in charge of the detective division, declared that only yesterday the slain policeman had brought to headquarters the woman who owned the confiscated car in which the five men were arrested, to explain that she was innocent of wrong-doing. The car was given back to her.

CONFERENCE IS TOLD WHY GIRLS RUN FROM HOME

Prof. Binder Says Law Forbidding
"Unfit" Marriages Would Cause Revolution.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30.—"Why do girls leave home?"

The answer was given yesterday to the eugenics conference at the Museum of Natural History. Miss Elizabeth Greene, who has had many runaway girls under her charge at Waverly House, said:

"Girls who run away from home simply show distinct American tendency to manage their own affairs. Curiosity and self-confidence impel a large number of them. Most of them are dissatisfied with home conditions. The percentage of immorality among them is very small."

Ever since folk began to determine the sum of years accumulated by Ann and ever since they have been seeking solution of the problem of why a fowl ambles across the macadam pavement they have also searched their brains for the other question of the trinity of puzzles.

Prof. Rudolph M. Binder, of New York University, warned that revolution would result from the passage of laws forbidding marriage of all who might be rated unfit by some legalized standard of physical conditions. He said:

"Eugenics should make the unfit fit, rather than forbid the unfit to marry. Draft records show that nearly 50 per cent of Americans examined were unfit for military duty."

Turns Moonshiner To Get In Jail But Fails

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Sept. 30.—Eighty-two years old, full of moonshine whiskey of his own making, a half-pint bottle of the stuff on his hip, down and out and too old to work, George Hardman, a veteran of the civil war, vainly sought some one to arrest him here yesterday so that he could have some place to stay. He failed in his efforts, as no one would hear his plea, even though he ran the gamut from governor down to the ordinary policeman. Instead of taking him into custody every official of the law expressed pity for the old veteran.

Hardman made his first attempt to get arrested at the office of Governor Morgan. Here he was directed to the prohibition officers. When the prohibition officials refused to take the old man into custody he visited the police and demanded that they "put him in jail." His story again won him sympathy and the police officials would not hear his plea to be sent to jail. Hardman then accepted the advice of friends to go to the home of his daughter.

Three-fourths of the 20,000,000 school children in the United States are defective physically in some degree. To tell them when they have grown up they must not marry would produce a revolution infinitely more serious than any proposed by anarchists.

"Increase health education and the appropriations for examination and treatment of children in schools," Dr. Binder put in a pleasant word for men of genius, disputing the assertion that they usually are physical weaklings.

DIVORCE CUTS WAR ROMANCE TANGLE OF POET

Henry Lee Shippey Was Infatuated With French Girl, So Wife Is Set Free.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 30.—Mrs. Mary Blae Woodson Shippey was granted a divorce yesterday from Henry Lee Shippey, former Missouri newspaper man and overseas warfare worker during the war. The court awarded Mrs. Shippey $100 a month alimony, $20 a month for the support of their young son and $75 attorney's fees.

Mrs. Shippey testified that her husband went overseas in September, 1918; that while in France he became enamored of a French girl, Madeline Babin, and that, following his return to Kansas City, he brought Miss Babin to Kansas City and, without her knowledge, provided a living for her in Kansas City while continuing to live with the plaintiff. She said that Shippey left the home in which they were living January 31, 1920, "when I refused longer to be one of his families." Mrs. Shippey testified that her husband now was in Tampico, Mexico. A baby was born May 8, 1920, to Madeline Babin in Kansas City. Mrs. Shippey testified, the baby being given the name Henry George Shippey. Mrs. Shippey said that her husband admitted to her that he was the father of this child. She said she was informed by Government agents that Madeline Babin and her child were in Monterey, Mexico.

Gasoline Varies —Just as Crude Oil Does

ORDINARY gasoline varies as widely in its qualities as the crude petroleum from which it is refined.

Many grades of commercial gasoline are one-sided—advantageous perhaps for one purpose, such as quick starting, but lacking in the all-around balance that means consistently smooth, economical running. This one-sidedness may be traced to the lack of diversity in the basic crude.

The improved "Standard" Motor Gasoline is the result of our access to widely varying sources of supply—covering almost every developed field—and our many years of refining experience.

Its perfect balance you may prove for yourself in your own motor.

Next time you need gasoline go to the nearest dealer and ask for "Standard." It costs no more than any other. Keep filling up with "Standard" long enough to prove its qualities.

You will soon notice that your motor runs sweeter and cleaner. You will find that you get more mileage per gallon and have less of the more annoying motor troubles. Your spark plugs and valve seats can't carbonize so quickly when practically every drop of the fuel burns clean.

You can now buy this improved motor fuel wherever you motor. It will pay you to fill your tank with it today.
